JOE CHAN

Chan Wai Nam

UX/UI DESIGNER

Product Design · Project Delivery

I turn complex journeys into clear digital experiences.

I'm a digital, graphic and user experience designer with 6+ years across fintech, media, commerce, health-tech and service products. As UX Designer at edmondpoon.com, I work across product design, UX/UI and project delivery for a platform with 200K+ members. My work spans customer journeys, internal operations and taking products from requirements to launch.

Understand the problem
Research, interviews and usability testing to identify needs, constraints and friction.

Design the system
User journeys, information architecture, reusable components and responsive UI.

Connect design to delivery
Clear handoff, launch QA, web design and front-end fundamentals in HTML/CSS and JavaScript (basic).

V-FIT24

Minutes Pay
Pay-per-minute access

UX/UI Designer / Product Manager
Launched 2025

Defined MVP priorities and business rules for pay-per-minute access, wallet top-ups and exception recovery. Designed flows for members, customer service and management teams. Coordinated front- and back-end delivery.

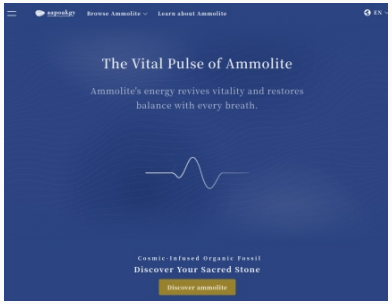

Delivered in one month across three Hong Kong locations. Led UX/UI and project management through launch.

AAPOAKGY

Brand & Product Lead / Product Designer / PM
May 2024–Present

Built a commerce brand from scratch: naming, product formulation, brand design, catalogue and responsive checkout. Clarified one-off ammolite attributes and certification for exact-specimen evaluation.

READ TONGUE ONLINE

Product / UX Designer · Feb 2023

Designed image capture, practitioner-led questions, diagnosis, prescription checkout, records and follow-up. Evidence assessment and final analysis remain with registered TCM practitioners.

EXPERIENCE & CAPABILITIES

Research-led thinking. System-level design. Practical delivery.
